FACTORIES HUM IN CONNECTICUT

Unprecedented Activity Is Now Shown

IN GREAT INDUSTRIAL FIELD
Comes at Time of Year When Sweeping Reductions
Have Been Rule.

NEW BUILDINGS ARE STARTED

(Special to the New York Herald.)
Derby, Conn., June 29.—With the brass mills, rubber factories and iron foundries, which line both banks of the Naugatuck river from this city to Winsted, enlarging their plants and increasing their working forces, the Naugatuck Valley is entering an unprecedented era of industrial activity and expansion.

What makes the present boom in business the more remarkable is the fact that it comes at a time of the year when sweeping reductions in working forces and shut-downs invariably have been the rule. For several weeks in summer it has been the custom, even in the best of business years, for the manufacturers of the valley to silence the hum of industry, and during this seasonal stagnation there has been little in the way of remunerative labor for the thousands of industrial workers.

For half a century the Naugatuck has put forth the claim of being "the greatest industrial valley on earth," and that claim will be sustained and enlarged this summer as never before. From this city, which is the head of tidewater and the gateway of the valley, to Winsted, which is the valley's northern outpost, there is for fifty miles an almost continuous chain of workshops in which well nigh every conceivable article is made.

The Birmingham Iron Foundry Company is the mainstay of this city. This company has just begun the building of extensions which will double the capacity of its immense plant.

But the company's step in beginning the erection of a new rolling mill is the best news that Derby has had in nearly a quarter of a century, for this rolling mill is to rise on the site of the old iron and steel works of the Peck, Stone & Wilcox Company, which dismantled its plant and moved to Southington twenty years ago. Until now the deserted site has been only an eyesore and an emblem of one-time industrial greatness.

At Ansonia the Ansonia Brass and Copper Company is about to build two great extensions to its brass and wire department. The company, which employs 2,000 hands, is running day and night shifts. The Farrel Foundry and Machine Company is building an enormous extension and is running nights. The Osborne & Cheeseman Company, which makes shoe laces, webbing and corset laces, has just completed a large extension, has prepared plans for an even larger addition, and will triple its working force.

At Naugatuck all the rubber factories of the Goodyear and allied companies will start on full time tomorrow. Five thousand operatives are employed in the Naugatuck factories, and there are enough orders ahead to keep them busy for a year. One of the orders is for 10,000,000 pairs of rubber overshoes.

In Waterbury, the American Brass Company is building two enormous extensions and is running its mills day and night. Twenty thousand operatives are employed in the brass city factories, and the number will be greatly increased as soon as the machinery is installed in the new plants.

At Torrington the Coe Brass Company is driven to its utmost capacity to keep pace with a quickening accumulation of business, and another mammoth mill is being constructed. It is working several thousand hands day and night.

At Bristol the New Departure Manufacturing Company has completed an imposing new building and is running full blast.

At Seymour plush, tool, brass, nail, cable and pen factories are running full handed, and several extensions are contemplated or in process of construction.

The great industrial revival in the Naugatuck Valley has its counterpart generally throughout Connecticut, and only in a lesser degree everywhere in the State. New Britain's great hardware factories are humming from one end to the other, and Landers, Ferry & Clark are almost doubling the capacity of their plant.

Most of the factories in Bridgeport, Hartford and New Haven are running on full time, and many of them are adding to their forces daily. The silver factories in Meridian, Wallingford and Shelton are in receipt of more orders to-day than at the corresponding period of any year since 1906.

WHEN EXPECTING DEATH
THEY WERE PARDONED

Zacatecas, Mex., June 27.—One hundred and eighteen Mexican Federal army officers of various grades were marched out of their prison inclosure yesterday under a heavy guard of Constitutional troops, taken to the plains east of the city for the customary executions, and then were astounded to hear from the lips of General Pancho Villa that their lives were spared. The old Aztec law of Mexico was overturned.

An invariable custom was cast aside. General Villa sought to prove to the world in an effective though dramatic way that he is becoming civilized.

The effect on the rigid line of Federal officers was instantaneous. Some wept with relief. Some buried their faces in their hands. Some gazed in an apparent daze at the firing squad standing with rifles at rest. Even the rebel soldiers were unprepared for Villa's act.

The Federal officers had heard of Villa as a huge savage with a blood lust. The Constitutionalists had expected him to carry out the custom of Mexican warfare.

NINETY-SIX YEARS OLD,
BUT WEDS SECOND TIME

Munfordville, Ky., June 25.—A marriage that probably has no parallel in the history of this country took place here when a near centenarian, Alexander Webb, of the western section of Hart county, took his second wife. He is past ninety-six years of age. Mr. Webb retains his faculties as well as men usually do at the age of sixty-five or seventy. He has been plowing side by side with other laborers all the summer and has done this for the past eighty years. Recently tobacco season came to that section and the old man set tobacco all day. For the last seventy years, since the death of his first wife, he has been living with his sons. But as this is not as satisfactory as living at home, Mr. Webb determined to get married and live at home. He owns a farm of 200 acres in the edge of Grayson county, also a farm in the western end of Hart county. This, added to the vitality he still retains, renders him independent even if he does so nearly approach the century mark.

RESULTS OF THE RECENT TEACHERS' EXAMINATION

In the recent county examination for certificates held at Fordsville, out of 27 applicants there were 18 first-class certificates, 9 second-class and no failures.

The following made first-class certificates: Mrs. S. M. Jones, Irene Taylor, Claude Fraze, O. W. Wallace, Nannie Mae Moseley, Alice D. Hoover, Will Griffith, J. E. Canary, Tillie V. Key, Henry Warner, Mary E. Marks, James Lelia Glenn, A. M. Palmer, Mrs. Birdie N. Midkiff, Estill Howard, Asa Chancellor, Emma Wright, Roy H. Foreman.

The highest grades were made by Mrs. Birdie N. Midkiff, average 98; Irene Taylor, 96 4-11; Mary E. Marks, 94 6-11; O. W. Wallace, 93 10-11; Asa Chancellor, 93 9-11; Emma Wright, 92 10-11; Tillie V. Key, 91 4-11; James Lelia Glenn, 91, and Estill Howard, 90 4-11.

In the colored examination, out of 3 applicants one first-class and 2 second-class certificates were issued.

VILLA'S LAST VICTORY
GREATEST IN THE LIST

Zacatecas, Mex., June 25.—After four days of preliminary fighting the final assault on Zacatecas took place Tuesday, resulting in the capture of the city by the Constitutionalists at 7:30 p. m.

The dead on the Federal side, according to official figures, numbered 4,000 and 2,000 wounded, while the losses to the attacking side were not stated definitely, though General Villa estimates his casualties at 500 dead and 800 wounded.

The battle was the most hotly contested during the present revolution in the belief of the leaders here.

Fourteen thousand Federals were entrenched in seemingly impregnable positions. Five thousand prisoners were captured by General Villa's troops. Twelve cannon, nine military trains, 6,000 rifles and three carloads of cannon and rifle ammunition were captured. The Federals were reported to have dynamited many buildings of the city before evacuating.

FARMERS ARE ALARMED
AT THE POOL DECISION

Washington, June 27.—That the farmers at large and especially the members of the Farmers' Union of Kentucky look with alarm on the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of tobacco pooling laws of Kentucky, was the substance of a letter from R. L. Barnett, of Paducah, State secretary-treasurer and organizer of the Kentucky division, Farmers' Educational and Co-Operative Union of America, which Senator James introduced in the Senate Friday.

"We regard the decision as sweeping in its scope and it carries with it the protection to the interests of the country and bars the farmers of equal rights with all other interests that are allowed to pool their money for their mutual interest and protection."

Mr. Barnett urges Senator James to support the Clayton anti-trust bill that exempts farmers' organizations from prosecution under the Sherman act.

Senator James also introduced a letter from J. W. Throckmorton, of Lexington, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Order of Railway Conductors for Kentucky, asking that he support the Clayton anti-trust bill that contains "provisions vital in interest to the labor organization."

BUSINESS HOUSE FAILS
FOR THIRTY MILLIONS

New York, June 25.—The biggest mercantile failure in the history of the United States was precipitated to-day when receivers were appointed for the H. B. Chaffin Company, of this city.

It is estimated the company owes more than $30,000,000, which at the present it is unable to pay. Assets are said to be $44,000,000.

John Chaffin, the head of the company, is the chief individual stockholder and owner of a chain of nearly thirty other drygoods enterprises throughout the country which are involved in the failure.

Receivers for several of these were named to-day, and it was announced similar action will be taken in the case of the rest.

Business will be continued with the receivers' management in each instance until their financial affairs have been adjusted.

From 3,000 to 5,000 banks throughout the country compose the bulk of the Chaffin creditors. They hold notes aggregating the major part of the liabilities. Chaffin notes, it was remarked in Wall Street to-day, were accepted throughout the county as almost equivalent to currency, so strong was its credit.

WAS CONVICTED UNDER THE NEW LIQUOR LAW

Bowling Green, Ky., June 27.—The first conviction in this city under the new prohibition law of Kentucky, which went into effect June 15, was that of Harry Smith, who was fined $100 Friday afternoon in County Court by Judge Denhardt for storing intoxicating liquor in a public building. The law provides for a fine from $100 to $500, and Smith was given the lowest fine.

HOG QUARANTINE IS ON IN HENDERSON COUNTY

Henderson, Ky., June 25.—Henderson county has been quarantined against the importation of swine, unless the animals are accompanied by a certificate of health guaranteeing them free from cholera disease. This fact was made known Wednesday afternoon when Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman made the statement during the course of his address before 300 farmers who had gathered to formally open the United States and Kentucky hog chol-ra station in the county. Mr. Newman advocated raising more hogs, and declared that farmers could realize more money by raising hogs and feeding them than by disposing of corn. Addresses were also delivered by Dr. R. H. McNally, inspector in charge of the station; Dr. Robert Graham, Dr. Musseiman and Dr. Mamuna, the three latter of the State experiment station.

CHAMP CLARK FOR SUFFRAGE

PRESIDENT A FAILURE
AS LAWYER, HE ADMITS

Atlanta, June 29.—President Wilson admits he was not a success during the year he practiced law in Atlanta. The President was a member of a law firm here in 1882. He made his confession of failure in a letter to P. C. McDuffy, an Atlanta lawyer, who read it before the Georgia Bar Association. In his letter President Wilson said in part:

"After graduating from Princeton I went for a year and three months to the law school at the University of Virginia. My health broke down and I went to Atlanta in May, 1882, and was very soon thereafter admitted to the bar of Georgia by Judge Hillier. I formed a law partnership with Edward Ireland Renick. We struggled with indifferent success to attract attention and gain a little law practice.

"This is practically all there is to tell, because I made up my mind during the year I was in Atlanta that I could best accomplish the objects I had in view in life by returning to the teaching of law and politics."

HAD HER BABY ALREADY PREPARED FOR ROASTING

Port Huron, Mich., June 27.—One of the most shocking acts of a deranged mind to come to the notice of the police at Sarnia, Ont., is that of a woman said to be of good family connections, but whose name the police would not divulge. She is said to have taken her three-months-old babe, carefully bathed it, then, suddenly being seized with a fit of insanity, became imbued with the idea that the infant was some sort of an edible.

She sprinkled the little one with salt and pepper and placed it in a baking pan, built a hot fire in a stove and was about to place the baby in the oven when a neighbor, chancing to call upon her, prevented a tragedy.

Fighting like a tigress, the manic mother, when she saw that her plan was balked, attacked the neighbor, who herself was almost overcome. Her shrieks brought aid and the child was removed from what might have been its funeral pyre.

The little one's arms and legs had been tied very much as a fowl would be prepared for roasting.

Death of Dr. Howard.

Dr. B. P. Howard, a widely known physician of Owensboro, passed away at 5:30 o'clock Friday morning at his home at 315 West Fifth street. His death came after an illness which confined him to his home for several months. Although Dr. Howard had been ill for a long time, his condition had not been regarded as critical, and his death came rather unexpectedly.

So Declares Himself To Women Visitors.

"MY WIFE WON'T LET ME"
Says Marshall, While Secretary Bryan Takes Refuge
In An Elevator.

MISS CLARK WITH HER FATHER

Washington, June 27.—Woman suffragists, representing 38 States, descended on the Capitol again today, seeking support from Congressmen of all political faiths. The women represented 300 petitions asking Congress to pass the suffrage bill.

Speaker Clark told them that woman suffrage was as "inevitable as the rising of to-morrow's sun." Vice President Marshall, pressed to take a more definite stand on the question, naively intimated that his wife would not let him, and Secretary Bryan, waylaid by an enthusiastic suffragist as he was wending his way through the Capitol's corridors to discuss affairs of State with a Senate committee, took refuge in an elevator.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, President of the National Woman's Suffrage Association; Jane Addams, of Chicago, and Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, of Kentucky, Vice Presidents, pleaded their cause to both Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark.

Mrs. Breckinridge, a grand-daughter of Henry Clay, said she hoped the Vice President would help the woman suffrage cause. The Vice President interrupted:

"I've got to remember my wife," he said, "and I don't want to get separated from her." This remark was interpreted by the suffragists to mean that Mrs. Marshall is opposed to the movement.

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, of Chicago, said that the delegation wanted their petitions sent to the Senators by messengers.

"I will do that for you," said the Vice President, and calling pages, he ordered the petitions distributed.

Dr. Shaw told both the Vice President and the Speaker there was a demand for woman suffrage throughout the United States. She said that since the nation-wide suffrage demonstration May 2 she had attended the meeting of the International Council of Women at Rome, representing 7,000,000 women from widely separated countries, and that when a resolution for woman suffrage was presented there, every vote was cast in its favor.

"This shows," she said, "that the desire for suffrage is not merely from this country, but from all over the world. The method of securing universal suffrage, State by State is too slow; unless we can get Congress to encourage the movement it will be greatly delayed. Therefore we are demanding that Congress shall pass some form of law. We are not stipulating what that law shall be, but we desire some law that will give the States the support of Congress."

"You are going at this thing in the right way," Speaker Clark told the suffragists. "If you women are going to run the world, I hope you will improve on the efforts of the men. My own judgment is that you can get results quicker through the States. At the rate you are going now, it looks to me as if you might get it in three, four or five years.

My own position, and I might as well make that clear to you, because I have got to some time, is that I think women should vote. Whenever it is submitted in Missouri I am going to vote for it."

Miss Genevieve Clark, the Speaker's daughter, was one of the suffragists in the party.

"Your father came across with the suffrage support," a friend suggested.

"He wouldn't have dared come home if he hadn't," she smilingly replied.

The Commercial Travelers' Union has launched a movement to change the voting days of the States and the United States from Tuesday to Monday.

SPEAKS A LOYAL WORD FOR EQUITY

And Wants To Know What Is Trouble

WITH WORTHY ORGANIZATION

Which Has Done So Much For Upbuilding Of Farming Classes.

OF MOMENT TO ALL FARMERS

Wausau, Wis., June 20, 1914.

Mr. Henry M. Pirtle, Hartford, Ky., Dear Sir and Brother:—Looking at Kentucky from the far-off Northwest and trying as best I can from the meager means that seem available to gather some information as to what is really happening in the old Commonwealth along organization lines among farmers, I am constrained to ask, "What have you to-day in place of the great and beneficent influence that was only a few years ago exerted in the State by the American Society of Equity?"

Thousands of our old-time Equity members in both the central and western portions of the State know very well by this time the diabolical influences that disrupted and in large measure destroyed our once grand organization.

In every section where this condition has been wrought, a few men full of selfish ambitions who never were real co-operators, have profited, and in some cases largely, by helping to wreck this, the most practical and effective organization of farmers the State has ever known.

But what are the rank and file of our old-time members or the farmers at large, receiving to-day as the result of their betrayal by said self-seekers?

You were asking for bread and are being given stones!

In reading the Owensboro Inquirer and noting the activity upon the part of some people, we are constrained to wonder as to what has become of the influences that used to produce great and wise men in Kentucky, full of patriotism and integrity.

Again, in reading some time since in the aforesaid paper, the clamorings for ONE organization instead of a multiplicity of them, realizing full well the confusion and difficulties that such a number of conflicting organizations would naturally bring about, and knowing how hard and long a number of the old pioneers have worked to prevent such a condition, I feel like saying as I am sure many of the old guard are saying, "Oh, yes! I told you so."

Now candidly, fellow Kentuckians, isn't it about time to stop experimenting, stop being carried about by every kind of doctrine, and get back to first principles? Get down to brass tacks and help to build up a real farmers' organization that will put you in a position to handle all the lines of co-operative work that should be handled, to the great benefit of the membership.

In a State that has so great a diversity of crops and interests as has Kentucky, the idea of organizing a one-crop organization such as your Tobacco Associations in different parts of the State, and expecting to secure the benefits, you so much stand in need of, is ridiculous to say the least.

You should handle and sell, co-operatively, all your surplus crops of grain, live stock, hay, wool, poultry, etc. Also you should buy in car lots co-operatively many of your supplies.

Such an organization as this, properly managed and loyally used and supported, would bring you benefits of such variety and volume that I predict that now, after the experiences of the last few years, there is scarcely to be found in the State a farmer worthy of the name, so belly-wise and pound-foolish as to be heard croaking about paying a little trifling annually to maintain the running expenses of the organization.

We think also that in the event that the time has come for a reaction, and the people can be shown the importance of getting into a real organization, with real objects so broad, and the people so completely in control that they may know that any time a change of methods in any line, or any amendment to laws, or regulations of the Society, becomes necessary, they have the power to make any needed changes, therefore, it would not be necessary to change to another organization. So when the apostles of division and destruction come to you with their deceptive stories, you can just give them the toe of your boot and tell them to move on.

Do you believe in co-operative buying of fertilizer, field seeds, lumber, farm machinery, wire fencing of all kinds, flour, feed, cement, etc.? If so, this organization will guarantee to make your investment in fees and dues return to you 10 to 100 times the amount.

The National Union is in better position now to assist you than for several years, largely because of the greater experience in practical co-operation and the decidedly greater accomplishments in this line of work, and therefore the greater confidence upon the part of our membership in the organization and its ability to do things.

A great work is being done in the Northwest. Great victories are being won. Why should not Kentucky get back in line and enjoy with us the fruits of victory?

Yours for Equity,
M. F. SHARP,
National Organizer.
H. G. TANK, Nat'l Sec'y-Treas.

EUGENICS FOR KENTUCKY
SOMETHING RIDICULOUS

A eugenic law in Kentucky? Impossible! There must be some mistake in the announcement that Kentucky is worried over its human breed, and has enacted a law which requires candidates for matrimony to give full and satisfactory particulars as to their physical condition before a license will be granted.

Matters have come to a pretty pass if the State of handsome men and beautiful women must take measures to keep up the standard of perfection. What must be the conditions in other States if the chivalry and beauty of the Blue Grass State are decadent?

No new-fangled law was necessary to make the manhood and womanhood of Kentucky great. Nature alone, working in the Eden known to mortals as Kentucky, developed a superb race. The men were mighty of them, tall, impetuous in love and war; gifted alike for the forum or the field, carrying all before them. And the women—ah, the women of Kentucky! Poetry and tradition wove around them a halo of romance through which their beauty and charm shed a radiance that entranced all mankind.

If Kentucky thinks she can improve upon the splendid type of humanity she has developed, she is vainly trying to gild refined gold and paint the lily. Let well enough alone, Kentucky! Repeal this foolish law, which stands as an admission that humankind in Kentucky is on the down grade. Stick to the old standards, and thus remain the envy of your sister States, which would be happy indeed to share the fame already achieved by Kentucky in rearing brave men and lovely women.—[Washington Post.]

FIRST SESSION BOARD
CHAUFFEUR EXAMINERS

Frankfort, Ky., June 24.—Thomas Byars, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles; W. R. Rice, of Louisville, and W. R. Myers, of Columbia, composing the Board of Examiners for Chauffeurs, met here to-day to organize. The statute fixes their regular meeting dates in various parts of the State to hold examinations; but they will arrange for special examinations this year to be held in Frankfort.

Pending their examinations, chauffeurs are required to take out temporary licenses, which may be secured by application to Commissioner Byars.

The first meeting of the board will be in Bowling Green, July 6. They will meet in Paducah the first Monday in September; in Louisville the first Monday in December; in Lexington the first Monday in February; in Maysville the first Monday in April and in Covington the first Monday in May.

This year for the first time owners of motorcycles are required to take out a license and secure a tag, costing $5.

CURED OF INDIGESTION.

Mrs. Sadie P. Clawson, Indiana, Pa., was bothered with indigestion. "My stomach pained me night and day," she writes. "I would feel bloated and have headache and belching after eating. I also suffered from constipation. My daughter had used Chamberlain's Tablets and they did her so much good that she gave me a few doses of them and insisted upon my trying them. They helped me as nothing else has done." For sale by all dealers.

HE PITIED WOMAN; THEN KILLED HER

For Her Ungratefulness
Towards Him.

THE OLD MAN BEFRIENDED HER

In Trouble, Married Her, and Then a Younger Man Appeared.

STORY OF A CRUSHED SOUL

Olympia, Wash., June 26.—Hamilton Douglas, 75, pitied a woman, and because he did, he stands convicted to-day of second degree murder.

Pity is akin to love, and love sometimes exacts terrible penalties, particularly when the love of a 75-year-old man is for a woman half his age.

Hamilton Douglas first pitied, then loved, then "killed the thing he loved."

Second degree murder is punishable by not less than ten years in the penitentiary and it will undoubtedly be equivalent to a death sentence for Douglas.

Hamilton Douglas lived a quiet, peaceable life for twenty-five years on a farm at Grand Mound, near Centralia. Two years ago, Fate sent a woman to a ranch within half a mile of him.

Douglas had come across her three or four times when her eyes were red with weeping, and he learned of the struggle of the widow with two children.

The man she lived with was not her husband and he beat her often.

Finally one night there came a nervous knocking on Hamilton Douglas' door. It was the woman. Her hair disheveled, her eyes dilated with fright, she begged Douglas to take her in. Her "man," she said, refused to keep her any longer.

He took her in, and there she lived with her two children for many weeks. She helped the old man faithfully on the farm, and then came marriage.

That was two years ago.

Things went smoothly for some months.

And then came the younger man—Charlie McDavitt—and the inevitable result.

Mrs. Douglas grew to care less and less for the old farmer, she contrived to have him sign a deed transferring his property to her.

And then McDavitt came to live at the Douglas home.

The young couple openly flaunted their intimacy before his eyes, he said.

They cursed him as an "old fool."

The old man left. He wanted to get away and forget, and at the age of 75 to start over again.

He went to a place near Vancouver, Wash., and stayed a month. But he could not forget. And he returned.

"You're not wanted here," his wife told him.

And the old man, determined to take command, replied by ordering McDavitt from the house.

McDavitt did not leave that night. But in two or three days Mrs. Douglas and McDavitt packed up all the household goods, talked over the chances of selling the farm, and prepared to leave.

McDavitt, in fact, had left, and when the old man asked for permission to take the team to Centralia, his wife laughed at him.

"This enraged me," said Douglas, "and I never said a word, but just got a gun and up and popped it to her."

WARREN PEACH GROWERS ORDER 5,000 BASKETS

Bowling Green, Ky., June 26.—A meeting of the Peach Growers' Association of Warren county, a newly-organized body, was held here to-day for the purpose of placing an order for baskets to be used during the coming season. An order for 5,000 was given to a Jacksonville, Texas, firm.

The first Warren county peaches of the year are now on the local markets, these being the Mayflower variety. The Mayflowers are the earliest peaches of this section, and are of excellent quality. The peach season will be on in full swing within a few weeks, the chief variety being the Champion, the Elberta and the Carmen.

Manager Hubert D. Graham expects to ship about 5,000 baskets of peaches this year, this number being about fifteen carloads, about 6,000 bushels. The peach industry in this county is still in its infancy, but is making lusty strides. Last year there were only two growers who shipped their peaches, but this year there are fifteen, and by next year there will be a good many more. There are at present about 100 acres of orchards from which peaches will be shipped, but this number will be greatly increased by next year. A great many new orchards are being set out at present, and these will begin to bear fruit soon.

The Peach Growers' Association is modeled after the Strawberry Association of this county, and present indications point to a success as great as that of the Strawberry Association.

LOUISVILLE HERALD SAYS "OUR BUSY DAY"

Anent the political situation in the Old Fourth District the Louisville Herald (Progressive) says:

As Grand Opera to the "Movies," so is the steadfastness of Kentucky Progressivism to the pitiable announcement of the Republicans of the Fourth Congressional District.

They are hungry, these gentry, and being hungry, accuse Progressives of shooting them away from the pie-counter. They have no stomach for the selfish delinquency of any man who keeps them from those square meals at public expense, which alone are their test of public approval—and private profit.

More blessed than ever was the suave and soul-filling word "Mesopotamia" to the elect, is to them "Amalgamation." It's a foreign word, a Greek word, and we are suspicious. We take refuge in the dictinaries—refuge and comfort—and what do we find?

"The blending of different things."
"The mingling of races or elements."

"A substance formed by mixture; an alloy."

No doubt they mean it friendly. But it reads like suicide to us. Probably when the "mingling" and the "blending" are through and certified, these good Republicans of the Fourth expect to play the part of the tiger in that famous ballad so full of worldly experience and daily example. Will they let us quote it?

"There once was a lady of Niger,
Who went for a ride on a tiger."

They returned from the ride
With the lady inside—
And a smile on the face of the tiger."

Thank you kindly, gentlemen of the Fourth. This is our busy day. And we have no time to go a-riding.

GO SWIMMING.

Teach your boy to swim.
It is the best exercise in the world in the summer. It develops the chest, improves the wind, and strengthens the heart. A boy who does much swimming can't smoke many cigarettes, because swimming is about the severest test of wind there is. Besides, if your boy knows how to swim it will likely save his life some time.

Teach your girl to swim. It will make her supple, lithe, and strong, and self-reliant. For when she is beyond her depth she has only her own arms and legs and nerve to depend on. And knowing how to swim may save her life. Practically every one that was saved from the Empress of Ireland could swim.

Teach yourself to swim, if you do not know already. You cannot be too old nor too young to enjoy it. It is the best fun in the world, and it may save your life some time.—[Chicago Tribune.]

ONE WAY TO START A BALKY HORSE.

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside appears a department in which John H. Cowan records, as follows, one way to start a balky horse:

MINERS' MEETING RESULTS IN RIOT

One Killed and Two Were Wounded.

DYNAMITE WAS USED FREELY

Explosions Caused a Property Loss Of More Than $100,000.

BETWEEN Factions OF UNION

Butte, Mont., June 24.—One man was shot and killed, one was fatally wounded, another seriously hurt, and property valued at $100,000 was destroyed by dynamite during the rioting which occurred last night at the Butte Miners' Union Hall, between factions of the union.

Dozens of shots were fired and more than twenty blasts of dynamite were set off during the night.

The city early to-day was quiet, but Gov. Stewart, at Helena, was preparing to issue a call for State troops to prevent further disorders here between the warring miners.

Many armed deputies were at the hall last night to preserve order at a meeting called to discuss plans for bringing about a settlement of the differences between factions in the union.

Large numbers of seceders from the Western Federation of Miners, who have planned to form a new union under the auspices of the Industrial Workers of the World, were near the hall.

The insurgents stormed the hall and Sheriff Driscoll's deputies fired several shots into the air to drive back the crowd, but the shots had no effect. The crowd pushed on and when the deputies fired a volley to kill, Ernest Noy, traveling inspector for the Montana Desfurrage Bureau, fell dead. Two others were wounded. The shooting caused the insurgents to retreat, but soon they returned with dynamite which they exploded under the union hall.

The front of practically every building in the block of which the Miners' Hall was the center, was wrecked by the continued charges of explosives set off by the insurgent miners. Hundreds of persons were struck by showers of flying glass which rattled down upon the heads of people packed on the sidewalks every time a blast was set off.

Dynamiting did not cease until after more than a score of blasts had been exploded and the Federation Hall practically demolished, the walls in front and back having been blown out and the roof caved to the ground.

Leaders of the new union with their lieutenants spent most of the night urging their men to retire to their homes.

The whereabouts of Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who fled the Miners' Hall when the firing began last night, is a matter of conjecture. He got into an automobile and was driven rapidly away. There was a report that he had taken refuge in the county jail, but Sheriff Driscoll denied this, offering to conduct a searching party through the prison.

The belief prevailed that Moyer and other Federation officers have left town.

President Michael McDonald, of the new Butte Mine Workers' Union, said:

"I don't care to make an official

Nothing can be good for everything.

Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only.

For weak or disordered kidneys.

Here is reliable evidence of their worth:

Mrs. W. N. Bartlett, 620 Triplett St., Owensboro, Ky., says: "For a long time I had nearly every symptom of kidney disease. My back ached terribly and I did not sleep well. During the day I was nervous and in bed all the time. My feet became swollen and I knew that I required a good remedy to cure me. I had often heard Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, so I got a supply and began taking them as directed. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

statement which would in any way place the blame for last night's occurrence. It was not done with our knowledge or consent and it was not in our power to prevent it. The first shot was fired by the Western Federationists. I don't know whether they intended to kill that poor fellow. I hope they did not, but they were responsible for what happened.

"We had issued orders and our men understood that there was to be no disturbances of any kind. We were waiting for the Western Federation of Miners to hold a meeting if they desired. When things get entirely quieted down here, perhaps we shall have an official statement to make. The people who know the actual condition will not blame us for what happened. We tried our best to keep order."

Operations were suspended at the Stuart and Original mines in consequence of the dynamite raid last night at the mines, but these properties resumed operations with the morning shifts. Both mines are near the miners' hall.

All other mines continued at work and the managers state there is no likelihood of a shutdown.

SUES TO RECOVER $5,000 ON A GRASS SEED DEAL

Says It Was In Reality a Wager or Bet On the Market Price.

Winchester, Ky., June 27.—R. P. Scobee has filed suit in the Clark Circuit Court against Ford Brent, of Paris, to recover $5,000 which he alleges he paid to Mr. Brent on a wager concerning the price of bluegrass seed. Mr. Scobee sets out that the spring and summer of 1911, he and Mr. Brent entered into a wager or bet, in the form of contracts, by which the plaintiff was to sell a large quantity of bluegrass seed to Brent for August delivery. He sets out that it was not expected by either party that the seed was to be delivered, but the wager should be settled by the payment in money, the difference between the price mentioned in the wager or purported contract, and the market price on August 1, 1911, in case the price went higher, Scobee to pay Brent the difference, and in case it went lower, Brent to pay Scobee the difference.

The price of grass seed rapidly advanced, Scobee claiming that Brent, at the time of the wager, had entered into an illegal combine with R. B. Hutchcraft and others to control the price of the seed, and Scobee, in settlement, paid Brent the sum of $5,000 cash and gave his promissory note for $6,000, which $1,000 constituted the difference in the market price and the price named in the alleged wager.

Scobee avers the money was paid on a wager and the purported contract is void under the law. He says Brent knew no seed was to be delivered by him, and at the time of the purported contract Brent and his associates had practically full control of the bluegrass market.

The note for $6,000 mentioned in his petition by Mr. Scobee has been purchased by the Paris Bank, and suit has been brought against Mr. Scobee to recover the amount of it.

LAD PRESENTS MEDAL TO WOMAN WHO SAVED HIM

Lexington, Ky., June 26.—"Thankful for Life" is the inscription engraved on a gold medal which Arthur Kelso Tribble, 3 years old, presented to Mrs. Edward Monaghan, of 433 Walnut street, who several weeks ago pulled the child out of a catch basin on Walnut street in which he had fallen and was being sucked into the sewer when rescued by the courageous woman's prompt action. The little boy is a son of Kelso Tribble, a farmer, on the Tate's Creek pike, and had come to town for a short visit when he had his narrow escape. Monday Mr. and Mrs. Tribble, accompanied by Arthur, drove up in front of Mrs. Monaghan's home. The little boy, alighting, marched up to the door, and when his rescuer presented herself he gravely presented her with the medal as a remembrance of his debt of gratitude. On one side was the inscription "Thankful for Life," and on the other the initials of Mrs. Monaghan, "M. M. M."

FOUR ACCUSED OF DYNAMITING

Are Set Free By President Wilson.

TWENTY ARE TO SERVE TERMS

New Trials Have Been Granted and Are Pending For Others.

ECHO OF LOS ANGELES HORROR

Washington, June 24.—President Wilson to-day commuted to expire at once the sentences imposed on Michael J. Hannon, of Scranton, Pa.; Frank H. Painter, of Omaha, Neb.; Fred J. Mooney, of Duluth, Minn., and William Shupe, of Chicago, all convicted in the "dynamite conspiracy" cases.

The other twenty defendants, including the leaders, must begin serving their sentences to-morrow in Leavenworth penitentiary. Clemency for John H. Barry and Paul J. Morris, both of St. Louis, was withheld while they have opportunity to submit separate petitions.

Hannon had been sentenced to three years. Painter to two, Mooney and Shupe each got a year and a day. Barry got four years and Morris three.

Those whose applications for clemency were finally denied and the terms they must serve are as follows:

Frank M. Ryan, head of the Iron Workers, Chicago, seven years.

Eugene A. Clancy, San Francisco, six years.

Michael J. Young, Boston, six years.

Frank C. Webb, New York, six years.

Philip A. Cooley, New Orleans, six years.

John T. Butler, Buffalo, N. Y., six years.

Charles N. Beum, Minneapolis, three years.

Henry W. Legleitner, Pittsburgh, three years.

Ernest G. W. Basey, Indianapolis, Ind., three years.

J. E. Munsey, Salt Lake City, six years.

Peter J. Smith, Cleveland, O., four years.

Murray L. Pennell, Springfield, Ill., three years.

W. Bert Brown, Kansas City, three years.

Edward Smythe, Peoria, Ill., three years.

Geo. Anderson, Cleveland, three years.

Frank J. Higgins, Boston, two years.

Michael J. Cunnane, Philadelphia, three years.

William E. Riddin, Milwaukee, three years.

No memorandum was given out accompanying the President's action, as sometimes is done in such cases, but it was understood the President followed closely the recommendations of Attorney General McReynolds. The four men whose sentences were commuted had a minor part in the conspiracy, the Government charged. Petitions setting out individually the applications of the other two for executive clemency will be received.

The twenty-four men who applied for pardon were convicted of conspiracy and the transportation of dynamite in interstate commerce for the wrecking of buildings and other structures in a labor war between the Structural Iron Workers' organization and the employers. The noted cases grew directly out of the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times' building and the confessions of the McNamara brothers.

New trials have been granted and are pending for the following:

Olaf A. Tveitmoe, San Francisco.

William K. McCain, Kansas City.

James E. Ray, Peoria, Ill.

Richard H. Houlihan, Chicago.

Fred Sherman, Indianapolis.

William Bernhardt, Cincinnati.

SUNSTROKE AND THE RATIONAL TREATMENT

Hippocrates, who lived 300 years before Christ, had a very simple method of treating people for sunstroke. His plan was to have one person pour cool water on the patient while two or three others rubbed him vigorously. The application of cold water alone is dangerous, because it drives the blood inward. If we apply cold water to the skin, and at the same time rub the surface vigorously, this brings the blood to the surface and keeps it there and the body is rapidly cooled.

Sunstroke is a very dangerous accident and is likely to prove fatal without proper treatment; but by the use of cold water poured from a height of five or six feet and with two or three people rubbing the patient vigorously, we may expect a cure in nearly every case. Especial pains should be taken to wet the head and back of the neck and keep these parts cool. Continue the rubbing until the skin is well reddened and consciousness restored.

MAN WITHOUT COUNTRY WAS HUSTLED AROUND

Insane Immigrant May Now Stay on Ellis Island Until He Dies.

Nathan Cohen, 25 years old, born in Russia, is at Ellis Island at the expense of the Lampert & Holt steamship agents, waiting until the United States Government has decided what is to be done with him. He was brought to this country from Brazil on the steamship Vestris on March 6, 1912, and allowed to land and proceed to Baltimore, where he had friends. A year later he developed insanity and was ordered to be deported under the three-year alien limit, and the Lampert & Holt line had to send him back to Brazil. There the immigration authorities refused to permit Nathan to land.

On his return to New York in the fall Nathan was taken to Ellis Island and later sent to Russia at the expense of the Lampert & Holt line, as it had brought him to this country in the first place. The Russian officials would not allow him to land there, as he had no papers to show that he was born in that country, so Nathan was sent back once more to New York. On March 7 of this year he was deported again to Brazil on the steamer Van Dyk in the hope that he would be allowed to go to relatives at Port Allegre, who would look after him.

The Brazilian officials were adamant in their refusal to allow the man to land, and he arrived back in New York on the Van Dyk and was taken to Ellis Island, where he will stay in the hospital for the rest of his days as the guest of the steamship company unless the authorities in Washington take some steps in the matter to be decided what is to be done with Nathan Cohen.

We are authorized to announce

MR. JOHN W. BOYD,

Of Elizabethtown, for election to Congress from the Fourth Congressional District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Primary, August 1, 1914.

Next Saturday is the glorious Fourth. Let us be sure that it is observed in a safe and sane way.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch does not believe in the efficiency of bloodhounds to track criminals and thinks this whole dog business is a mythical humbug. If the Times-Dispatch man will write to the officials of the Bank of Hartford, he will learn of one case at least—some years ago—when bloodhounds served a very good purpose in an unmistakable way in tracking criminals.

The newspapers give an account of how Senator Ollie James "kissed good-bye to $10,000" when he canceled a contract with the Northwestern Chautauqua Association to devote the months of July and August to the chautauqua platform. The agreement was that he was to receive $175 per lecture, which would have brought him more than $10,000. It's just like Ollie to stay at his post of duty in the interest of the people and do a thing like that.

In a private letter to The Herald complimenting our write-up of the recent meeting of the Kentucky Press Association at Dawson Springs, Ky., Mr. Will P. Scott, secretary of the Dawson Commercial Club, says: "We are dating things now in Dawson Springs from the date of the meeting of the K. P. A." Hurrah for Will Scott! His progressive spirit and energies have done much for Dawson Springs, and he not only knows how to do great things for a town but for big assemblies like the K. P. A. He knows the power of advertising, for he was once a newspaper man himself.

The recent decision of the Supreme Court in regard to the pooling of tobacco need not necessarily affect farmers' organizations which are rightfully conducted. It is their aim to protect the interests of farmers in disposing of their products, and you can call it pooling or not, as you like. The Court's decision simply says a man who violates his pledge to the organization is not to be punished—that is all. The other men who feel honor-bound to stick to the organization can go on with their business. The "dumper" seems protected by the Court's decision. The others need no protection.

To-day the farmer does not have to be told of the importance of the Telephone in his daily life and work. They have learned that the Telephone is no longer to be considered a luxury but a necessity for successful farm life. It keeps him posted on the markets, so that he may buy and sell to advantage. It calls the doctor day or night. It calls the friend for a social chat and the merchant or professional man for business matters. It tells when and where repairs can be had for all farming implements as well as the place to buy new ones at your command, on short notice, and considering the matter from a dollar and cents standpoint only, the farmer has decided there is nothing in which he can invest which will yield as great profit for so small investment as a telephone connected with the Ohio County Farmers' Mutual Telephone Co., (Incorporated), for they have access to all telephones connected in the entire system and all connecting companies. ENDED HIS LIFE AT AN EVANSVILLE HOTELE. B. Courtney, Recently Beaver Dam Citizen, Took the Fatal Route.

Evansville, Ind., June 25.—E. B. Courtney, age 34, of Beaver Dam, Ky., shot himself through the head in room 26 at the Acme Hotel at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. He died at St. Mary's hospital at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon where he was being attended by Drs. G. W. Varner and M. J. Compton.

He went to the hotel Tuesday. No one in the building knew him or his business. A note book was found in his pocket in which the words "Notify Mrs. Courtney, Beaver Dam, Ky., and G. C. Courtney, of Hopkinsville, Ky.," were plainly written.

Fearing that Courtney may have met with foul play, Coroner Kerney notified Detective John Springer, who compared the writing in the note book and that in the hotel register. It was found to be the same.

The persons named in the note book were notified after he died and G. C. Courtney, of Hopkinsville, his brother, came after the body last night.

Courtney was seen in the lobby of the hotel only an hour before he shot himself. Manager Jake Schmidt of the Acme hotel said that he came down the stairs and started out the front door. Just as he opened the door, says Schmidt, he turned and went back up the steps. That was the last seen of him until after he shot himself.

The bullet went through the right side of his head near the temple and passed almost completely through. The bullet could be felt on the left side of his head. Dr. Compton gave him a hypodermic and sent him to St. Mary's hospital, although he was assured that there was no chance for recovery. He died about three hours later.

Mr. A. W. Bennett and family, who had been visiting relatives here for a few weeks, left for Nashville Friday and after a few days visit they left for Oklahoma City, Monday.

Sparks from the south-bound passenger train were supposed to have set fire to the grass on the right-of-way and same soon spread to Mr. E. T. Williams' meadow adjoining the right-of-way in South Hartford and burned six shocks of hay before the fire was extinguished.

Oris Goodall, who was arrested charged with cutting William Lankford at McHenry Mines last Sunday afternoon, executed bond and his trial is set for next Monday. A RABBIT'S FOOT USED AS CHARM

By Man Convicted Five Times For Murder.

SENTENCED TO DIE EACH TIME

He Has Been Fighting For His Life In Courts For Five Years.

A FEW DETAILS OF THE CRIME

Birmingham, Ala., June 27.—The most remarkable case in the criminal history of the South has gone back to the Supreme Court of Alabama for the sixth time, to be reviewed. It is that of Ervin Poe, charged with murder, whose long fight for his life has not only made him celebrated as a prisoner, but has made his legal counsel famous.

Poe has been sentenced to hang in five separate trials for murder. Several gallows have been erected for his execution. While a prisoner in the Birmingham jail he watched from his cell window the building of two scaffolds for himself.

For more than five years he has been fighting for his life. The Supreme Court has ordered five new trials for him, and in every one the lower court convicted Poe and prescribed the death sentence. Seven different days were set for the hanging. But Poe never believed he would be hanged. He said no court could resist the charmed influence of a left hind foot of a rabbit killed in a graveyard on a Friday night, the 13th of the month. Such a charm he carried constantly and attributes his life to it.

Poe's case was recently returned to the Supreme Court for the sixth time, and will probably be decided again by the 1st of July. Another reversal of the lower court's death sentence is looked for.

Poe is charged with the murder of J. B. McClurkin, of Calhoun county, in April, 1909. McClurkin was a miller by trade, and was awakened about midnight by the noise of some one robbing his cotton gin. He followed the robber's wagon tracks. The following morning his body was found horribly mutilated in a cotton patch near the town of Oxford. He had been knocked on the head with a heavy club and his skull crushed with a large stone found near the body.

The principal witness against Poe was a negro named John Body, in front of whose home the killing occurred, who swore he was awakened by screams and blows and heard a voice crying "Ervin."

Another star witness for the State was a negro named Joe Dodgen, who testified that the mule tracks leading to Poe's house had a peculiar mark in one of them, showing two protruding horseshoe nails. The following day he found a mule owned by Poe whose foot bore peculiarities similar to the tracks which he had found.

MANY THINGS RETURNED ON "TAKE IT BACK" DAY

Carinen, Okla., June 26.—"Here, Mis' Jones, I've brung back your lawn mover what we borrowed last summer."

"Land sakes, I'd most forgot we ever had one. But I'm right smart glad you come over, 'cause I found one o' them silver knives your ma lent me when Joe and his wife and the children was home Thanksgiving. I sure thought it was lost."

That was one dialogue of hundreds like it to-day, which was by official pronouncement of the mayor, J. E. Trever, "Take Back What You've Borrowed day." Every arti-

HEALTH PAST FIFTY

Careful diet is of utmost importance to men and women past fifty years of age; it keeps up their strength, and the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion is a nourishing food, a curative medicine and a sustaining tonic to regulate the functions.

It contains the medicinal fats of pure cod liver oil and science proves that they furnish twice as much energy as other foods—then too, it creates pure blood, sharpens the appetite, relieves rheumatism, strengthens the body and alleviates the ailments due to declining years.

Scott's is free from wines, alcohol or harmful drugs. Beware of substitutes.

ele subject to the unwritten law of neighborly courtesy which had been borrowed and its return neglected during the last year was restored to its rightful owner wherever the owner was still alive or had not removed from the State. Some even invoked the aid of parcel post in returning what they had borrowed. There is no report of anyone, however, having decorated the graves of rightful owners with articles neglected to be returned before death.

Mayor Trever declared his hope that the institution would be adopted by all cities. It was a success. Persons recovered articles they had forgotten they owned. Old grudges were cleared up because the forgotten borrowed article was returned. All Carinen felt better at night. Its obligations were squared. A new borrowing year has begun.

POLITICS DOES MAKE RADICAL TURNABOUTS

Remember that letter of thanks which T. R. wrote to Senator Boise Penrose after the election of 1908, when the Colonel carried Pennsylvania by an overwhelming majority? Let us forget, here it is:

"My Dear Senator Penrose: Upon my word! Of all phenomenal returns, the Pennsylvania returns are the most phenomenal! I congratulate and cordially thank you.

"Faithfully yours,
"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

The "My Dear Senator Penrose" whom the Colonel so cordially thanked and to whom he recorded himself so "faithfully" is the same wicked Boise whom he is now endeavoring to defeat for the Senate. More power to you, Colonel in this respect, but don't forget, "Faithfully yours, T. R."

reading is the pastime which naturally appeals to one for whiling away the time pleasantly and profitably.

In most cases, it is fiction that is desired—interesting fiction, not too deep or highbrowish, but with lots of action and a plentiful seasoning of sentiment.

Lippincott's for July offers an especially attractive table of contents of this kind.

The complete novel is "Northborough Cross," by L. Cope Cornford, a distinguished British author.

This is a "buried treasure" story of a new type. The scenes are laid in a staid English village—that

 MILLIONS WASTED IN P. O. EXPENSESWhich Burleson Expects To Save.*MONEY IS NEEDLESSLY SPENT

In Handling Mails—Will Lop Off $10,000,000 or $20,000,000.

WANT EXPENSES KEPT DOWN

Washington, June 27.—Postmaster-General Burleson has completed plans which he expects will reduce Uncle Sam's bill for delivering mail from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 annually and increase the efficiency of the service about 25 per cent. In putting the postal service on a business basis, he proposes to cut off enormous expenses entailed by the department has been used as much for political as business purposes, and he hopes to build up an efficient working organization.

Agents of the department have already reported that thousands of men and women are drawing salaries who are not needed and who are an actual impediment to the machinery of the organization.

Many of these men and women have been on the pay-rolls for twenty, thirty and forty years. Getting their jobs first through politics, they have stayed on the pay-roll though their services have depreciated in value annually.

The first cut made in line with Mr. Burleson's plan was announced

H. E. MISCHKE, Agt.CENTRAL CITY SALOONS WILL NOW BE CLOSED

After Heavy Fines, Proprietors Agree To Stop Sale Of Liquor.

The Central City Argus of Friday says:

What will probably be the death blow for the saloon men of Central City was struck at Greenville Thursday when fines were assessed by County Judge Rice in severa cases and the defendants agreed to have their goods packed up and out of their buildings by Saturday night at six o'clock. They agreed not to transact any business, either soft-drink stands or anything else, pending the trial of their cases in Circuit Court in September and then the ruling of the Court of Appeals on the decision of the Circuit Court. By that time every saloon license in the city will have expired with the exception of that of Miller and May at the old Gordon stand, which runs until December 5.

In the two cases against John T. May and company, fines of $75 and $100 were assessed, and the Court pointed out the fact that the fines might be accompanied by jail sentences if necessary to stop the sale of liquor in Central City. Following these cases agreed fines of $60 each were entered in the two cases against C. W. Wells. The cases against E. B. Miller were continued until next week.

There are more than eighty warrants out in all these saloon cases and it is readily apparent that a saloon man can not attempt to do business and pay fines in so many cases. County Attorney Gray states that the other charges have not been filed away and will not be filed away, but the county officials merely agreed not to force an immediate trial of all the cases if the saloon keepers would close up and stay closed up. After the Court of Appeals has passed on the legal phase of the situation here, the other cases will be taken up and disposed of.
